UNDER TROPICAL CLIMATES. BALTIMORE, Md., June 4, 1854. Mr. Stockbridge, of the Fountain Hotel. Light street.

Dear Sir : Being on the point of leaving the city, I avail myself of a few idle moments to thank you kindly for the medicine you sent me, and shich has restored me to the use of my limbs. I beg you to table Tincture my confidence is so strong that, in gratitude o the proprietors of said medicine, I beg you to present my respects to them, and induce them to make it more publicly known as a sure Rheumatic cure. Having called on me on the 19th of April last, and seen me prostrated on my bed, us less in all my li abs, you can appreciate nearly well as myself the prompt relief I received from Dr. Hampton's Tincture, and I am positive had it not been for your strong and forcible recommendations I should still have been in bed. It is really a pity this specific should not be aproved by medical men, and like all patent drugs it hould suffer the imputation the public generally give to such preparations. I myself, who was al ways opposed to a patented specific, took this medicine with reluctance, and without confidence in it and it was only through your disinterested, friendly recommendations, and my critical situation that induced me to try this really beneficial Vegetable

You may inform Messrs. Mortimer & Mowbray that they are at liberty to make use of my name in Vegetable Tincture, as it has cured me in five weeks of a chronic Inflammatory Rheumatism, contracted under tropical climates, and of seven years' periodical duration. I have only used three bottles, and find that even the deformed parts of my hands are fast returning to their former natural appearance.

I have been under the treatment of several phy cians in London and Paris, without any apparent onian and Homospathic remedies, after having been tormented with galvanic batteries, cold and aromatic baths, and hundreds of internal and external medicines, all to no effect, I am, so far, cured by this Hampton's Vege able Tincture only. Therefore, my ear sir, accept of the assurance of my gratitude, and believe me your well wisher. THOMAS CANOT.

BRV. VERNON ESKRIDGE, U. S. N. PORTSMOUTH, VA , Aug. 18, 1851. Boush-Jear sir: While I am, in gene ral, opposed to patent medicines, cander compels me to state that I have great confidence in the virtues of Hampton's Vegetable Tincture. For several months past I have used it in my family; and in yspepsia, loss of appetite, disziness, and general debility, with entire success. So far as my experience extends, therefore, I take pleasure in recommending it to the afflicted as a safe and efficient remedy.

I am, respectfully, yours, VERNON ESERIDGE, Chaplain, United States Navy.

Mortimer & Mowbray : Gentlemen-Havng been afflicted with Liver Complaint of ten years standing, I hereby, for the b neat of the afflicted, take great pleasure in announcing that after using a few bottles of your Tincture, I found it had acomplished a perfect cure I have used different medicines from time to time, but have never been able to account for any apparent good, and it is a blessing to stricken humanity that that medicine is found which possesses the wonderous power of prolonging human life. The many cures it has wrought is a sufficient guarantee of the beneficial results which may be experienced from its use. Yours,

There were sixteen on the jury. In each of the twelve or fifteen cases presented, the vote was seven for a bill and nine against. The nine are understood to be members of a secret organization. Our worst fears are realized. On Wednesday evening at a meeting of the ruffians and their friends (among whom are some of the principal men of the place) it was agreed to back up any who might be arrested, and to demolish the jail if they should be committed. The law cannot be enforced in Ellsworth.

The Journal also gives the following sketch of Ellsworth and some of its peo-

Ellsworth hns been earning its pres ent infamous character for a period of nearly twenty years. Some evil genius seems to have been the patron of the place, which in its growth and maturity realizes all that the most malign spirit could wieh for it. The catalogue of the wanton, vulgar, and dastardly outrages committed in Ellsworth during the past ten or fifteen years, would be too painful to recapitulate. The better class of public exhibitions have been repeatedly assailed, however well conducted and respectable. Temperance, musical and lyceum assemblies have been disturbed and interrupted Panoramas, theatrical shows, &c., have ever been at the mercy of the mob. Wharves, dams, and booms have been cut away-vessels, stores, houses, and shops have been broken into and propbuildings, signs, fences, or tearing them down, have been of very common occurrence. Furious driving, indecent behavior and shocking profanity, disgrace the public streets. Wanton cruelties have been practised upon animals, which have been made horrible spectacles of for the amusement of the vile rabble. Among the earlier demonstrations of Piper," a most harmless and inoffensive itinerant player, who in passing through this State had the ill fortune of the man who went down to Jericho, to fall upon Ellsworth. The public house at which he stopped was mobbed, and he was threatened. The poor piper, affrighted leaped from the window and ran off into the woods, where he remained all night.

suffering much from exposure. Later, the dwelling of a most respecta ble magistrate was assailed with stones, brick-bats, &c., and one of the inmates of the house, a lady, narrowly escaped a fatal blow from one of the missiles. His offence was that he had acted in his official capacity in a criminal matter.

At another time the miscreants of Ells worth broke into the office of a lawyer, a lame and suffering citizen, took his valuable library out into the fields, and tore the volumes in pieces; the offence was that he was not liked by the vile

THE POWER OF THE PENCE.

A Manchester calico-printer was on his wedding-day, persuaded by his wife to allow her two half-pints of ale a day as her a long time as she does not walk trated with engravings from designs, by her share. He rather winced under the bargain; for, though a drinker himself, he would have preferred a perfectly sober wife. They both worked hard, and he, poor man, was seldom out of the publichouse as soon as the factory closed. The supplying a little gutta percha for the wife and husband saw little of each other except at breakfast; but, as she kept things tidy about her, and made her stinted and even selfish allowance for housekeeping meet the demands upon her, he never complained. She had her daily pint, and he perhaps had his two or three quarts; and neither interfered with the other except when at odd times de succeeded, by dint of one little gentle artifice or another, to win him home an hour He maintained that such communication or two earlier at night, and now and then between the two countries. with a single to spend an entire evening in his own line, was feasible, with comparatively house, but these were rare occasions. AN EXPENSIVE SUPPER. - The Cincinnati Commercial tells the following: A few nights before the failure of that erty destroyed. Bedaubing and defacing adroit financier, P. B. Manchester, he gave one of those splendid suppers which had already won for him an enviable reputation among a few; and an invitation to which was considered by many an honor. A gentleman in this city who has in his composition a large quantity of pride, and an excellent opinion of his own popularity, united with a disposition to float serenely in upper tendom, was the low and contemptible instincts of the honored with a card of invitation. Everypeople, was that upon the "Wandering thing pertaining to the supper was of a sumptuous and costly character, satisfactorily evidencing the great wealth (?) and importance of the host. During the evening, the gentleman above alluded to was drawn into conversation upon money matters by Mr. Manchester, who finally enquired where he deposited his funds, and at what rate of interest. Upon being informed the Banking House, and the old fashloned sum of 6 per cent. interest, the shrewd Banker remarked, "Ah, sir, I am paying my depositors from 8 to 10 per cent., and I am realizing from the careful investment of their money, from 11 to 1 per cent. a month; thus you see, benefitting both the depositors and myself. I can pay you 10 per cent. if you wish to deposit with me." The logic and the supper had their effect. In a day or two the gentleman deposited with Manchester about $1,200, and in a day who formerly consulted us about a young lady with a wooden leg, has now brought the matter to a crisis by marrying her: and now, after a month's experience-an entire honeymoon-Henry says : - " I am happy to say a wooden lee is no bad bargain. I married Jessie a month agoshe refused to give up the wooden leg for a cork one, as she said she detested false appearances. She is always at home, except when she goes out with myself-sh never flirts with other men-she dances at a party-she requires only one stocking and one boot or shoe, and these serve much, and yet she is not unpleasant to walk with-she differs very little from other young women. The only expense of the wooden leg is the breaking of a strap, which is easily repaired, and the ends of it, to prevent noise in walking. Balancing profit against loss, a lady with a wooden leg is rather profitable, not to speak of other benefits. I find in Jessie all that enjoyment I would desire.
